

The more you LEARN The more you EARN

Every Thursday night you'll find Ti'Ara watching her favorite lawyers crack the case. She wants to be a trial attorney, and a field trip to a DC courthouse sealed the deal. However, her grades weren't good. She never studied—trying to fit in with her friends. Finally, she listened to her mother, who always said “Choose your friends wisely and don't follow the crowd.” Now she's in school every day, working hard to improve her grades so she can go to college and get into a good law school. One day, Ti'Ara will step into a courtroom to argue her own case.

Paul Public Charter School Class of 2015

School.
It Pays to Stay.

Sponsored by DC Government
dc.gov/stayinschool

